Ben Wells is responsible for designing and developing the systems and applications supporting the external websites and interactive tools of Research Affiliates. Research Affiliates is a global leader in smart beta, factor investing, and asset allocation. The firm creates investment strategies and tools based on award-winning research and delivers these solutions in partnership with some of the world's premier financial institutions.

With over 20 years of experience as a software engineer, Ben has had the opportunity to build a broad range of enterprise solutions with a variety of technologies from backend to front. Prior to joining Research Affiliates, he worked for BlackRock for many years, rising from an entry-level associate to director, leading a team in the design and implementation of a web-based CRM platform.

Ben holds a BS in computer science from Columbus State University.
